>The panic sets in
as the walls start
>to close around me.
My breath comes quicker
>as I stare at the paper.
On this sheet
>is my worst fear.
A giant F
>continues to stare.
A constriction begins
>to overtake my lungs,
and my heart
>beats faster.
How can this be?
>I never did feel
or believe this could happen.
>I drop to my knees.
Someone help me, please.
>I can't seem to breathe.
The world around me
>is getting hazy,
and the dizziness won't stop.
>I clutch the paper
as my vision gets darker,
>and the world around me goes black.
